Young Professionals Need Opportunities

Zide Du, CCF
MSA Asia Faculty Summit 2012
Advancing the Next Generation of Researcher
Who are the next generation?

Got Ph.D degree to age of 35 (or 40) years

- What background do they have and should have?
- Are they willing to dedicate to research work?
- Do they have real Ph.D degree?

  If not, goto END

  else …
What do they have?

- Young and with energy
- New knowledge and ideas
- Enthusiasm and innovative passions
What are they lack of?

- Money
  - Where the money from?
- Reputation and personal networking
- Opportunities!
What Opportunities?

- To think: What to do (research direction)? Why?
- To try to speak or raise questions, discuss or debate
- To know the people and be known by others
- To do and practice
- To apply for grants

... ...

Don’t just wait!!
What should the young people do?

- Find real problems to be solved, shape your brain by many ways
- Join the academic community, share and raise questions
- Work hard without asking how much money you can earn – aspire great value
What can we do for them?

- Money? some ways, but rarely and hard
- Encouragement
- Opportunities
